

labour

Department:
Labour
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

Home

About Us | Contacts | Services | Media Desk | Tenders | Vacancies

Site Map

Basic Guide to Employment Equity Reports

Employers must send employment equity reports to the Department of Labour. Employers who cannot report must let the Department know in writing. Public employers must publish summaries of their employment equity reports in their annual financial reports.

Application

The Employment Equity Act applies to all employers, workers and job applicants, but not members of the –

- National Defence Force;
- National Intelligence Agency; and
- South African Secret Service.

The provisions for affirmative action apply to –

- employers with 50 or more workers, or whose annual income is more than the amount specified in Schedule 4 of the Act;
- municipalities;
- organs of State;
- employers ordered to comply by a bargaining council agreement;
- any employers who volunteer to comply.

See

- Employment Equity Act

Applies to all employers and workers and protects workers and job seekers from unfair discrimination, and also provides a framework for implementing affirmative action

When Must Employers Report?

Employers with less than 150 workers must send their reports –

- within 12 months after they become employers; and thereafter
- every year ending with an even number.

Employers with more than 150 workers must send their reports –

- within 6 months after they become employers; and thereafter
- every year on the first working day in October.

Based on Legislation in Section 21, of the Employment Equity Act

Contents

The report must have all the necessary information and be signed by the Chief Executive Officer.

Based on Legislation in Section 21, of the Employment Equity Act

Employers Who Cannot Report

Employers who cannot report must let the Department know in writing and give reasons.

Based on Legislation in Section 21, of the Employment Equity Act

Publishing the Report

All public companies must publish summaries of their reports in their annual financial reports.

The Ministers of government organisations must table their reports in Parliament.

Based on Legislation in Section 22, of the Employment Equity Act

Related Links

- Basic Guide to Employment Equity Managers
Under the Employment Equity Act, employers must select a senior manager to be responsible for the employment equity plan
- Basic Guide to Employment Equity Pay Gaps
Under the Employment Equity Act, employers must submit statements of their workers' pay and reduce any unfair gaps
- Basic Guide to Employment Equity Plans
Under the Employment Equity Act, employers must draw up a plan to address equity imbalances
- Basic Guide to Employment Equity Studies
The Employment Equity Act requires that employers conduct studies to identify equity issues
- How to Notify the Director General for employers who cannot report
How to Notify the Director General for employers who cannot report
- Form EEA2 - Employment Equity Report
This form gives the format that employers must use when they do their employment equity reports